1 Kingsland Road

London E2 8AA

Trendy Shoreditch is a centrally located and thriving part of London. The Kingsland Road is a short walk from Old Street underground station, and is serviced by the Northern Line. Close to the space are parks, museums, galleries and the bars and night life of East London. The area is well known for its creative community and active community of tech start-ups also. Close by are organic food stores, plenty of hotels, gyms and coffee shop hangouts, ideal for spending your time away from the office.

The most unique building in Shoreditch, this is your chance to be one of a handful of companies which will enable you to create your own identity. Previously Shoreditch's train station, based in the heart of Shoreditch on the Kingsland Road, this space has been designed by Nopi and Ottolenghi restaurants' designer, Alex Meitlis. Designed to inspire creativity and innovation, the space is not your standard office. Complete with a range of work environments, from relaxed lounge / cafe to sound-proofed meetings rooms, phone booths and silent desk space for focus and concentration. The space includes over 40 workstations fully equipped with power sockets, as well as printing facilities, creative break-out areas and meeting rooms. Upstairs is the lounge area, which offers free tea and coffee to users all day and a great programme of events in the evenings and weekends. This centre is more than just a desk, it is a place to engage with other workers, to increase productivity and bring great ideas into fruition.
