25 Palmerston Place

Edinburgh EH12 5AP

Studio space has become available for rent in the heart of Edinburgh's West End. Situated 5 minutes from Haymarket Station, the building is easily accessible by public transport. Situated in the heart of Edinburgh's West End, the Centre is accommodated in the splendid surroundings of an elegant Victorian townhouse. We offer a variety of experiences in the form of workshops, classes, talks, therapies and private sittings. Recently we have been delivering a programme of online events which have attracted people from all around the world.

The Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Centre first opened on the 23rd of October 2011. The centre is a non-profit charity with a mission to make spirituality accessible to everyone. The centre achieves this by providing a space for the community to nurture their physical, mental and spiritual well-being. This workspace would be ideal for anyone looking for a long-term working space. This quiet and versatile space is situated in the centre newly refurbished cellars. Naturally lit through large windows and bright electric lights, it is perfect for someone who requires peace and quiet. This space could be an office, a therapy room, an artist's studio or even a rehearsal room. The centre building is secured through anti-theft systems, regularly maintained fire suppression systems and we have staff at reception during working hours. The space also opens to showcasing artworks for sale throughout the building. Commission for sales is negotiable. Members will have a bright tearoom for members to meet with clients in the main building. In addition, clients will get 24/7 access with their own studio key.
